

Tutorial Series

HOSTING > PUBLISHING > MICROSOFT FRONTPAGE

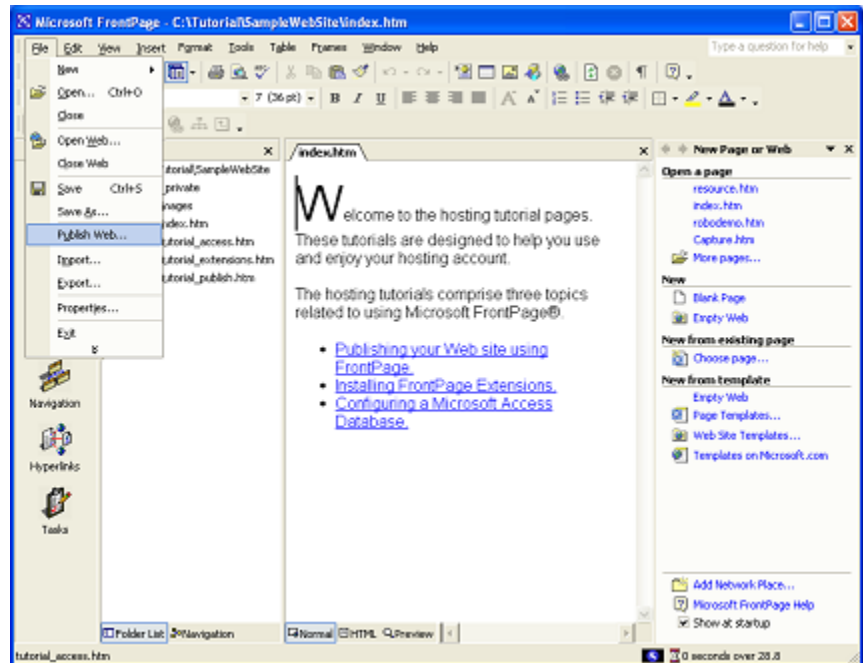

Publishing a Web Site Using FrontPage

Objective

This tutorial describes how to publish a FrontPage Web to the Internet. To begin, be sure that you have set up your hosting account and installed FrontPage Extensions to your hosting account. You will also need your Account/FTP log-in information, available in the Manage Your Hosting Account pages.

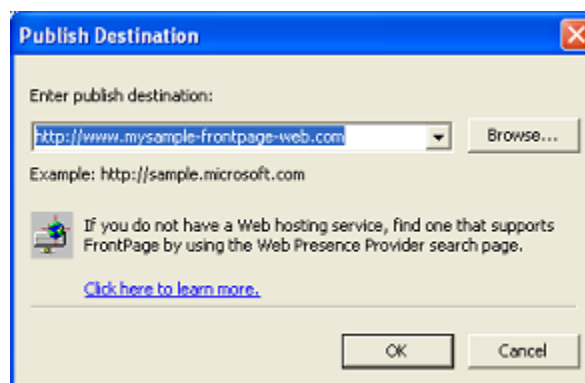

Step 1

In FrontPage, open your FrontPage Web. On the File menu, click Publish Web.

Step 2

In the Publish Destination dialog box, type your full domain name (Web site address), including the HTTP://, and click OK.

For example: <http://www.mysample-frontpage-web.com>

If you have already established a publishing destination for this FrontPage Web, the Publish Destination dialog box doesn't appear. Go to the next step.

Tutorial Series

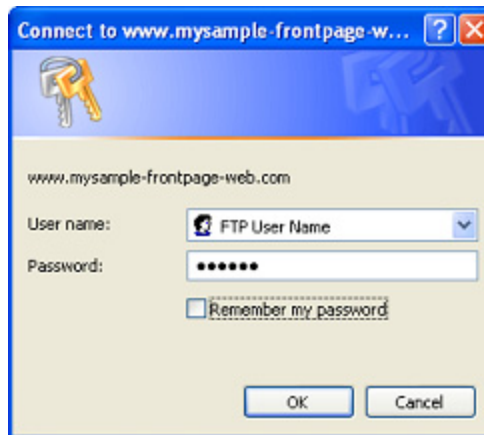

HOSTING > PUBLISHING > MICROSOFT FRONTPAGE

Publishing a Web Site Using FrontPage

Step 3

In the Connect to www.mysample-frontpage-web frontpage web dialog box, enter your Hosting FTP user name and password, and then click OK.

Note: Your Hosting FTP user credentials are NOT the same as your customer account user credentials.

Step 4

In the Publish Web dialog box, click Options.

In the Options dialog box, specify whether you want to publish only pages that have changed, or all pages. You can also define how FrontPage determines which pages have been changed and create a log file for changes made during publishing.

Step 5

In the Publish Web dialog box, click Publish.

If you cancel publishing in the middle of the operation, files that have already been published remain on the destination Web server.

Tutorial Series

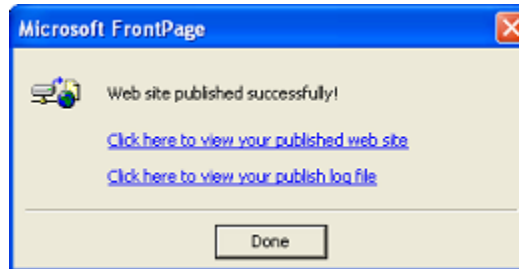

HOSTING > PUBLISHING > MICROSOFT FRONTPAGE

Publishing a Web Site Using FrontPage

Step 6

In the Microsoft FrontPage dialog box, click Done.

If you want to open your published site in a browser or view the log file for the published site, click the appropriate link.

Congratulations

Your site is now published!

